Aporia is published once yearly by the Department of Philosophy of Brigham Young University and is dedicated to recognizing exemplary philosophical work at the undergraduate level. Each year, the winning essays of the annual David H. Yarn Philosophical Essay Competition (open to BYU undergraduates) are published along with other outstanding undergraduate philosophical essays. The winners of the Yarn Competition are selected by a faculty committee independent of the student editors and staff.

The Aporia staff is especially grateful to those who support and make possible this journal. Special thanks go to Professor K. Codell Carter, chair of the Department of Philosophy, for his encouragement and assistance, and to Linda Hunter Adams of the Humanities Publications Center. Aporia is funded by a generous contribution from the David H. Yarn Endowment. Those wishing to contribute to this fund may do so by contacting the BYU Department of Philosophy.

Submissions information can be found in the back of the journal. Submissions and inquiries should be sent to:
